Publicize Your Accomplishments

1. A Link From Your Website to Marquis Who's Who

If you have a professional or personal website on which you highlight the fact that you've been selected for inclusion in a Marquis Who's Who publication, provide the authoritative source by linking to our web site. As you may know there's other "who's who" organizations out there, but only one Marquis Who's Who – so it's important that you direct people to the correct source. An example of what you can include is:

Selected for Who's Who in Science and Engineering, 2006-2007
See Marquis Who's Who web site at: www.marquiswhoswho.com

2. Send a Press Release

Spread the word about your achievement using this effective Press Release Guide!

On the reverse side, you'll find a sample press release that you can customize for your local newspapers to announce your inclusion in Who's Who in Science and Engineering, 2006-2007, scheduled for publication in September, 2006. Reading about you in the papers is a wonderful way for your colleagues, peers, and friends to learn that you are included among the most accomplished people in the country.

To prepare your press release for mailing:

1. Compile a list of your local newspapers and magazines.
2. Address your envelopes to the managing editor or local news editor.
3. Retype the sample press release on your own letterhead and fill in your city, your state, date of mailing, and your name where indicated in parentheses ( ). Also fill in the year, name of the publication in which you will appear, and the month it will be published.
4. Make copies of the press release, fold, insert into envelopes, affix postage, and mail.

Note: Sometimes newspapers will also publish your photo. Feel free to include one with each press release, if you desire. Black-and-white is usually preferred.

We hope you find these tips helpful in sharing the news of your accomplishments with your community. Best wishes on your continued success!
